

39-lot Subdivision Proposed For Osgood Street

By Susan K. O'Neill

On Tuesday night, the Planning Board heard preliminary plans for the building of a 39-lot neighborhood on farmland located on Osgood Street in south Andover.

According to presenter Paul Ferrante of Dana Perkins Engineering, "Glenn Magna," a cluster subdivision proposed for a 45-acre tract of land that is part of the former Earth Grant Farm, will be served by two cul-de-sacs stemming from a road that loops off—and onto—Osgood Street at a short distance from the intersection of Frontage Road. Greenspace deeded to the town under cluster regulations will tie in with that from an existing nearby subdivision known as Apple Blossom Park. Separating the two, a nine-acre parcel of land, including a farmhouse, will be retained apart from development by its owners.

The proposed subdivision is surrounded by land owned by the Digital Equipment Corporation, on which the company is planning a major expansion project for the near future.

Abutter John Holmes, whose property sits at the Osgood-Frontage intersection, expressed his concern about the effect of new development on traffic in the already heavily-traveled area. Citing the road's steady use by vehicles serving Digital and the nearby Demoulas storage facilities, he said, "That intersection is becoming horrendous. I hope this construction and Digital's forces the town to do something about that interchange."

Atty. Brenda Malley, representing the Nabydowski family, which owns abutting farm property, recommended that a more extensive "green belt buffer" be maintained by developers between the new subdivision and her clients' land. The Nabydowski property is used as a piggery, she explained; her clients wished to do all in their power to avoid problems with neighbors who might move in, then object to the atmosphere created by the nature of the family's business.

Also in the interest of understanding, Malley proposed that developers consider adding a covenant to subdivision property deeds that acknowledges the presence and purpose of the farm. "I do understand that this may be downwind from the pig farm," she added.

The deadline for a board vote on "Glenn Magna" is August 22.

In separate actions, the board:

Papers Appear At Planning Meeting

By Susan K. O'Neill

At first glance, the two sets of papers placed on the table for public distribution at Tuesday's Planning Board meeting seemed little more than dry background information for the night's scheduled discussion. Entitled "Definitive Plan Requirements," and "Bond Procedures," neither could in itself be considered controversial—or even exciting—reading.

But, by their very presence, the two xeroxed documents created somewhat of a stir among certain elements of the audience—notably, representatives of the League of Women Voters, who had been battling the board since the beginning of the month for access to just such "preliminary" working papers.

Was the sudden availability of the papers a sign that the board had given in to the League's insistence that even preliminary information belonged to the public by legal right? Had Town Counsel Alfred Daniels ruled against the board's contention that information released in the preliminary discussion phase could be incomplete and misleading, and could prove detrimental to the development of policy?

Did the documents, in other words, represent conciliation on the part of the Andover Planning Board?

"It represents nothing of the sort," answered Andrew Girdwood, who had chaired Tuesday's meeting in the absence of Chairman Michael Houghton. "These are just some draft documents we were working from."

At the July 8 meeting, when the subject had first been raised by League members, the board had reminded the

Bonds Are Released By Planners

Tuesday night, the Planning Board voted unanimously to release a $200,000 stabilization bond for work on Phase III of the Olympic Village subdivision. They also voted to defer the release of a $50,000 "open space" bond for the project until their next meeting on August 12, in order to secure assurance that outstanding minor checklist items have been completed.

The board set bond for work on the 21-lot Colonial Hill subdivision at $116,915 for 30 days.

Finally, board members voted unanimously to grant a three-week extension of an existing bond to developers of Belle Isle Way.

Conversion Law Seminar Monday

Attorneys from Merrimack Valley Legal Services will discuss the Massachusetts Condominium Conversion Law and answer questions at the Andover senior center on Monday, Aug. 4, at 12:30 p.m.

Questions to be asked include: What are your rights as a renter? How long do you have before you must relocate the apartment? Can the new owner raise your rent? As a potential buyer, what are your rights? Can you, as the new owner, force the tenant out or must you wait up to two years to occupy your own condominium?

The answers to these questions and more will be discussed.

ON YOUR FEET

Ingrown toenails are one of the most common complaints that cause people to seek the attention of a Podiatrist.

This disorder is usually caused by inherited abnormal curvature along the sides of the toenail: thickening of the nails as seen with a fungal toenail infection; and is aggravated by shoe gear. Rarely it may be caused by a bone spur pressing on the underside of the nail.

Following a thorough examination we will discuss our findings and treatment modalities. Correction is usually aimed at removal of the offending portion of nail and eliminating any infection that may be present. These procedures are done in the office operatorly under local anesthesia. New techniques allow faster recovery and earlier return to normal daily activities with minimal post operative discomfort.

It is important to remember that people with impaired circulation to the feet and lower legs are more prone to infections caused by ingrown toe nails. These people should seek prompt treatment for their foot problems. Periodic foot examinations are recommended to help prevent any future foot problems.

Peace Day Picnic Planned

Last year, Governor Dukakis joined the governors of many other states to proclaim the first Sunday of August as National Peace Day. This year the Andover Ecumenical Peace Group will celebrate National Peace Day with a picnic on the Andover Common. Activities will begin at noon. Several local artisans will be on hand to share their talents. Visiting Japanese students will help area residents fold colorful paper cranes, the symbol of the survivors of Hiroshima. These birds represent good luck and long life in Japanese culture. Katherine Robinson will share the story of Sadako and the Thousand Cranes. Andover singer/songwriter Pat Scanlon will lead the group in contemporary peace songs. Fr. William Mullin of St. Robert's Roman Catholic Church will share information on National Peace Day and an account of his visit with Marie Stain, its founder. Dozens of balloons with messages of peace and folded paper cranes will be released.

The picnic is open to all. Beverage and dessert will be provided. In case of rain, the picnic will be held in Christ Church Fellowship Hall.

In June 1985, the U.S. Senate passed a resolution designating the first Sunday in August "National Peace Day." A sister bill, H.J.R. 90, currently awaiting action in the House of Representatives, calls for a time for Americans to consider the possibilities for peaceful coexistence among all peoples of the world.

The Andover Ecumenical Peace Group was formed in the summer of 1984 by the Andover Clergy Association in response to a growing need within several congregations to work together for peace. Over the last two years, its clergy and lay members have organized monthly peace services within ten local churches and written the Andover Peace Covenant, a personal covenant to pray, study and discuss peace.

Training Program Offered

The Department of Community Services and the community health education department of the Regional Health Center in Wilmington is conducting a workshop for male athletes entitled "For Boys Only" (grades 5-8) on Tuesday, Aug. 5, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Andover High School.

The program will include what is physical fitness, how to obtain it and what the basic principles are for safe and effective athletic training. Proper weight training techniques will be demonstrated. Tips on developing specific muscle groups and strength for specific sports will be given. Proper running techniques and strategies to minimize running injuries will also be discussed.

A registered dietician will speak on the nutritional needs of athletes and the pre-competition meal. Lunch is included in the registration fee. Come dressed for a workout.

Pre-registration is required at the DCS office, Bartlet Street, Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Film Series Continues

The Department of Community Services Family Movie series in Central Park continues Monday, Aug. 4, with "The Dark Crystal." Created by the Muppet masters Jim Henson and Frank Oz (Yoda) from designs by artist Brian Froud, the world of "The Dark Crystal" is an old/new, magical, mystical fantasy land peopled with fairy tale beings: the gentle UrRu mystic sages, the grim and evil Skeksis, the happy Pod People, savage Garthim warriors and the last survivors of the innocent Gelfling race, Jen and Kira. All the movies begin at dusk. In case of rain, movies will be rescheduled for Tuesday. Next week's feature film will be "The Tower"

Peace Group To Meet Tuesday

The next meeting of the North Andover People for Peace will be held Tuesday, Aug. 5, at 7:30 p.m. at North Parish Church which faces the North Andover common. Andover Surgeon Makes History

When 103-year-old Mae Hurlbutt made up her mind to have cataract surgery, she had no idea she might make medical history. Or that her zest for life might come to the attention of the White House.

"We believe she is the oldest person in the United States to have cataracts of both eyes removed and lens implanted," said Dr. Wilson Horsley, her eye surgeon, who lives on Evergreen Lane, Andover.

"I will be talking about her for the rest of my career, not for that fact, but to spark people up who have given up," said Horsley, who is only 35.

"She is just brimming full of life," he said. "She has a stack of magazines she wants to read, an active interest in her church and places she wants to see and visit. Many of the elderly I've seen have too much of their mind in the hereafter, but here is a woman, years beyond them, who is only thinking about life. Up until the day she dies, she's going to go for it."

"I'm not retired, just tired," quipped Mae, who was born on Christmas Day in 1882. She said surgery was a snap.

President Reagan sent her a letter in recognition. She could read it without the aid of glasses.

A year ago, cataract surgery corrected the vision of her left eye to 20-20. Soon after, Mae wanted her other eye, which also had a cataract, operated on.

"She has a mind of her own. It was her decision to come to the hospital and have it done," Horsley said. "No one had to encourage her."

The operation was performed at the Clinton Hospital in Clinton. Horsley is also affiliated with the New England Memorial Hospital in Stoneham where he is chief of ophthalmology.

Mae returned to Horsley's office the morning after the operation to have the bandages removed. She sat in the examining chair, surrounded by church members, friends and nurses, asked questions and carried on a lively conversation. All shared the dramatic moment when she read the chart, letter by letter, with the eye that had been partially blind for years.

As Horsley tested her restored sight, which improved over the next 24 hours to 20-20 vision, he said, "Many people get discouraged and give up in their later years. Because of impeded vision, they gradually drift away from the rest of society and cut themselves off. Mae is a source of inspiration. She lives for the present, she wants to live to her full potential."

The surgery took about 20 minutes. In the afternoon, Mae returned to the nursing home at River Terrace Healthcare in Lancaster where she has been living since she began to need help walking. She uses the aid of a walker.

Horsley said that before modern cataract surgery was developed, patients had to stay in the hospital up to two weeks, lying flat on their backs with sandbags to hold their heads still.

The operation is performed under a powerful microscope. Through a small incision in the eye, the opaque part of the cataract is sucked out leaving behind the capsule that held it in place. A clear, new plastic lens, like a contact lens, is inserted into the capsule.

The sutures used to close the incision are about a quarter the thickness of a human hair. The incision in Mae's case was so small that only one suture was needed.

About four years ago Horsley, after studying the procedure under Dr. William Harris who developed the intraocular technique, introduced this operation at New England Memorial Hospital. New England Memorial became one of the few hospitals in the northeast at the time where the procedure could be done. Since then this type of eye surgery, because of its high success rate and quick, comfortable recovery, has become increasingly popular in New England.

About 800,000 cataract operations are performed nationally each year.

Horsley's practice is located at the Horsley Clinic, 61 Main St., Stoneham, and at the Clinton Hospital in Clinton.

Mae said she was looking forward to attending the camp meeting at her church later this month. "I wish my legs were as good as my eyes," she said.

Believed to be the oldest person to undergo cataract surgery, 103-year-old Mae Hurlbutt reads eye chart one day after a cataract was removed and a lens implanted. The surgeon, Dr. Wilson Horsley of Evergreen Lane, Andover, has Miss Hurlbutt test her restored vision using a trial frame which she wears to block out the sight of one eye and see through a lens with the other.

Given Fellow Award

Yen Long Kuo of Andover has been honored with the 1985 AT&T Bell Laboratories Fellow Award. He is being recognized for his fundamental contribution to the design of digital transmission systems. His contributions include inventing an equalizer and making advances in computer-based circuit design aids.

The annual Fellow Award was established to give special recognition to members of the technical staff who have made unique and long-term contributions to the work of Bell Labs. The Fellow includes a $15,000 honorarium.

Before joining Bell Laboratories in 1970, Kuo earned his master's degree in electrical engineering from Oklahoma State University and his doctor's degree from the University of California, Berkeley. He was named Distinguished Member of Technical Staff at Bells Labs in 1982 and a fellow of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers the same year.

Special Singers Workshop

The annual Singer's Workshop of the Treble Chorus of New England will feature a new and very special section in its workshop August 11-15 at South Church, School and Central Streets, Andover, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. A concert will be held Saturday, Aug. 16, at 7:30 p.m. The workshop, already well-known for its high standards of musical achievement, will now offer instruction and experience for boys whose voices are changing or have changed and would still like to continue singing with a professional group.

Marie Stultz, artistic director for the camp, has chosen some exciting repertoire for this group. At present there are four openings. Anyone interested should contact Jean Thomases to set up a pre-interview and audition time before the opening of the workshop.

The workshop also has openings for five girls or boys who would like to sing and train for the chorus.

There is a fee for the workshop and scholarships are available.

Society Band Performs

The Department of Community Services Summer Concert Series in Central Park continues on Wednesday, Aug. 6, with a performance at 6:30 p.m. by the Back Bay Society Band. The band, which will perform in front of the band stand, plays a typical big band format. Paul Wagner, the band leader, has been in the music business for more than 20 years. His background extends to writing and producing commercials, performing in theaters, a composer/performer and arranger for summer stock and doing commercial performance dates in the greater

New England area. He is currently a record reviewer and writer for the "Saxophone Journal, Inc.," which is the world's largest magazine devoted entirely to the saxophone.

In the event of rain, the concert will be held on Thursday evening, August 13. The concert will feature Bill Scism's Jazz Band.

Peace Day Vigil Planned

The North Andover People for Peace will sponsor an evening of peace activities on the North Andover Common on Wednesday, Aug. 6. Singer/songwriter Pat Scanlon of Andover will join Holly Gettings to start the evening with contemporary peace songs at 7:30 p.m. Poetry and readings will be shared by several members of the North Andover People for Peace. A silent candlelight vigil in remembrance of the victims of Hiroshima and Nagasaki will follow. Participants will receive a folded paper crane, the symbol of the survivors of Hiroshima. These colorful origami birds represent good luck and long life in Japanese culture.

August 6 marks the 41st anniversary of the bombing of Hiroshima, the first use of nuclear weapons in warfare. An estimated 70,000 persons were either killed or missing and another 70,000 were injured in the atomic blast on August 6, 1945. Others suffered the long-term effects of radiation. Three days later, a second atomic bomb was dropped on the city of Nagasaki.

"The possibility of nuclear war frightens me," said Jonathan Keller, a resident of North Andover and a student at University of Massachusetts, Amherst. "I agreed to organize the Hiroshima day event because I am a true believer in democracy. We all have a responsibility to protect the future, especially those of us in a democracy. I urge everyone to do all they can to work for peace."

Within the United States there is a growing movement to set aside a National Day of Peace. Governor Dukakis joined with the governors of many states last year to designate the first Sunday in August as National Peace Day. A bill, H.J.R. 90, is now pending in the House of Representatives to create a National Day of Peace for Americans to reflect on the prospect of peace among the peoples of the world.

Wednesday's celebration and vigil will draw into focus the horrors of nuclear warfare and the prospect of world peace. The activities are open to all. Participants are asked to bring a candle for themselves and one for a friend. Refreshments will be served in North Parish Church following the vigil.

The North Andover People for Peace is a non-profit educational and community action organization drawing members from Andover, North Andover, Lawrence and Methuen. Membership is open to all who wish to work for peace.

Pennacook Park

Pennacook Park welcomes new staff Toniann and Karen and say a sad goodbye to Leslie. On Monday, we celebrated leader Patrick's birthday and playgrounder Shelley's 12th birthday with cupcakes, candles, cards and songs. The community volunteers joined in a quick-moving game of kickball. The score was 8-8.

On Tuesday we laced up our skates and 'rolled on' at Roll On America where Julie, Pat and Toniann made the news with a big bang. Shahram came in third in a "hot potato" game. A cookout and relay races where everyone managed to win at least one gold, silver or bronze medal finished off the week. The children had the banana pudding they made with Karen in cooking earlier in the day.

On Monday and Tuesday of this week we wrote our own newspaper. Wednesday was an adventure at Water Country where Shahram was the first to attempt the water slide while Glenn and Denise tried to bump counselor Patrick on the water bumper bugs.

A track meet between U.S.A. and Russia was held on Monday and part of Tuesday with U.S.A. winning 114 and Russia losing 106. Team captains were Todd Allard and Matt Daniels. Some of the winners were Todd and Paul Allard, Jimmy Landry, Matt Daniels, Matt Harris and Danielle Sadler. Both teams enjoyed cookies made by Wendy Prugh. Rocks were painted on Tuesday and it was decided that Steven Hosmer's rock, named Rocky, was very creative. Everyone had a great time at Water Country on Wednesday. Ed Pascucci, Todd Murray, Lisa Allen and Rudy Morando braved "Geronimo." A balloon toss on Thursday gathered many, including Jessica Goodman, Tony Morando and Alice Noel. Maura and Erin Collins enjoyed making many bead bracelets. On Friday, salt in jars was quite messy, but fun, with everyone filling babyfood jars with colored.

Doherty

There were many talented young "Hawaiians" at last Friday's Hawaiian Day. Winners of the Limbo contest were Katie Merrill and Susan Cookson. Danielle Smith and Leslie Campion took over the dance contests to Beach Boys' music. The talent continued this week at a super talent show. Highlighting the fabulous series of acts were Con O'Brien's gymnastic routine to "We are the World" and a comic routine by Leslie Campion and Rachel Levine. Colorful macaroni necklaces were also a big hit. Thursday was time to enjoy a herty MacDonald's breakfast in pajamas and later to judge stuffed animals in a pet show. Winners were Cori O'Brien, accompanied by Stitch, Dogfeet and Puppy Feet; Carli O'Brien, accompanied by Tate; Bobbi Jo Richardson, accompanied by Swampy;

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

No toy, no matter how durable, safe, or educational will be used unless it is fun! Adult attitudes toward toys often affect their play value for children. If a toy is so costly or so fragile that adults become anxious when a child manipulates it, the toy is no longer "fun." If adults insist there is only one correct way to use a toy, it is no longer "fun." Children delight in the unexpected, the unusual, and the absurd when they play. A good toy stimulates the child's curiosity and creativity, and, most importantly, children enjoy sharing their toys with those they love.

You will enjoy seeing the beautiful selection of baby things at TINY TOTLAND. Leading brand name furniture including Simmons, Childcraft, Bassett & Morigeaux. and Jason Twombly with his outrageous "Ram-bone" puppy. A great time was had at Water Country, especially by those brave enough to encounter the Geronimo, like Mark DeCourcy and new member Will Dailey.

Sanborn

Sanborn splashed out their fun at Water Country on Wednesday as Phil Boness, Brian Workman, Amy and the Parkers had a suiciding time daring themselves on the Geronimo. While Katie, Abby Julie and Karyn were flying down the water slide, Aimee, Matt and Parker were splashing around on the bumper boats. Back at Sanborn, Peter, Danny, Lisa and Megan had a massive water balloon fight which kept them busy for the day. Earlier in the week Aimee taped the air bands which was a huge success. The bands consisted of Waugh Boness, Parker, DeBenedictis and Mouse who sang "Bloody Sunday." The girls' band was Katie, Julie, Amanda and Elisa, who sang "Crush on You" while Amy and Abby sang "Jump" by Van Halen. Other activities during the week included making glitter bracelets, necklaces and pins.

South

The week started with enjoyable and exciting games such as shipwreck and kickball. Sue Doucette was the winner of shipwreck while Rocky Tradd, Marc Escott, CJ Dodd, Jen Aylward, Shira Hermosa and Jen Shapiro battled it out on the kickball diamond. There was a trip to Poms Pond on Tuesday, part of this fun bunch were Vanessa and Noelle Blank, Abby Hermosa, Emily Joanness and Matt Kenny. Those who stayed at the playground created their dream houses out of popsicle sticks. The playground was closed on Wednesday while 41 individuals from South traveled to Water Country for a fun-filled day of water fun. The making of friendship pins and bracelets and a short game of soccer rounded off Thursday's activities. The theme for Friday was pajama day and a traditional cookout.

West

The fourth week at West Playground started out with a fun and exciting game of soccer where Brian Tisbert, Kevin and Shawn Barry and Christine Spignesi excelled. In a giant game of Capture the Flag on Tuesday, Mark Selvitelli and all the Abernathy's were able to capture the other team's flag a numerous amount of times. The entire playground took a field trip to Water Country on Wednesday and went on many slides, from the screwdriver to the Geronimo. Thursday we made tissue flowers in a variety of colors. The weekly cookout was held on Friday and the children were able to make animal sounds and win candy in a challenging game of barnyard holler.

Monday started off with our favorite game, Even Elephants Forget. Jeff Irvine, Brad Belisle, Jason Shaw and Danny Martineau have been expert players. Robby, Mary Cassidy and Chris Lane created beautiful puppets sparkling with glitter. Other crafts included making friendship bracelets. Bernie Vajda, Meghan McDougall and Stephanie Buck were some of the best bracelet makers. Canoeing has become a popular sport around here. Carol and Courtney Cunningham enjoyed riding on Poms on Monday and Tuesday. Also on Tuesday, Jennifer Buck and Co performed a dance show. We also created great stained glass flowers. Lauren Sullo and Kendra McCade made a bunch. South came to challenge us in a kickball game. It was a great game.

On Wednesday we all went to Water Country in Portsmouth, N.H. Leo Blais, Evan and Kelly Ferguson, Ben and Matt Perrault and Judit Vajda enjoyed the wet and wild fun. Everyone agreed Geronimo and the corkscrew were the best rides there. We ended the day by making batches of popcorn.

On Thursday we had a spaghetti lunch, but we began the meal with chocolate and vanilla pudding. A little backwards, but fun. Emily Wegner and Christie Cunningham helped decorate the table. We made our placemats and colored the table with the flowers we made earlier in the week.

Hospital Gets Grant

Last year Lawrence had the highest percentage childhood injury rate in Massachusetts with 2,856 injuries per 1,000 children (28.56 percent). Methuen ranked third highest in the state at 23.57 percent.

Every year 20 percent of all Massachusetts children experience injuries serious enough to require hospitalization.

Half of all deaths of children ages 1-14 are the result of trauma accidents.

These statistics indicate a need for local, specialized emergency services for children. In response to this need, Lawrence General Hospital applied for, and received, a $1,500 grant from the state Office of Emergency Medical Services to provide a pediatric trauma education program for the Merrimack Valley. Lawrence General is the only area hospital to receive such funding from the Department of Public Health through the Preventive Health Block Grant program.

"We are concerned about the high incidence of accidents involving children in this area," says Joyce Russell, R.N., B.S.N., M.Ed., director of education at Lawrence General Hospital and coordinator of this special pediatric trauma program.

"Specialized trauma services for children are not available in the Merrimack Valley and nurses must be educated in the care of pediatric trauma victims," she continues. "As the regional trauma center for central and eastern Merrimack Valley, we have a responsibility to provide this information."

The Pediatric Trauma Program will be held September 5 and 6 at Lawrence General and is designed primarily for nurses employed in emergency room settings. The program will inform participants about the physical differences between children and adults and how they affect care; growth and development in the early years, environmental hazards common to each age group and the prevention of childhood accidents.

This program features Patricia O'Malley, M.D., emergency room physician at Massachusetts General Hospital, a specialist in emergency pediatric care, as a special guest.

Mozart Festival At Academy

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a series of concerts dedicated to the consummate genius of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart.

The concerts will feature faculty and students in concerti, divertimenti, chamber, choral and operatic works of Mozart.

Of special interest is the concert at the Andover Savings Bank on Friday, Aug. 1, at 8 p.m., sponsored by about 30 local businesses in support of Andover's ABC program (A Better Chance). This is a national non-profit organization designed to provide academically talented minority students with an opportunity for outstanding secondary school education.

The two student soloists, Kang Won Lee (violin) and Hang Ho Lee (cello) are brother and sister and are at Andover for their second summer. These young musicians have won several competitions in Korea and have appeared on national television and as soloists with the Seoul Symphony Orchestra.

Sunday's concerts will feature the summer festival's faculty in a concerto marathon, including eight concerti for solo instrument and orchestra and two works for vocal soloist and orchestra.

The final concert will be the performance of Mozart's "Zaide," an opera in two acts (actually a singspiel) written in 1779. The work has rarely been heard in this country and has had but a couple of staged performances.

The concert schedule follows:

Friday, Aug. 1, 8:30 p.m. Andover Savings Bank, Main St., Andover, The Quintets of Mozart, featuring Eric Thomas, clarinet; Orinaldo Pandolfi, French horn; and Dragand Bajalovic, piano. A donation will be taken for the benefit of Andover's ABC program.

Saturday, Aug. 2, 10 a.m., Baybank/Merrimack Valley, Main Street, Andover, faculty brass. 8 p.m., Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy campus (next to Andover Inn), concerti, divertimenti and choral works. Mozart's Violin Concerto, K. 219, Kang Won Lee, violin; Haydn's Cello Concerto in D Major, Op. 101, Kang Ho Lee, cello.

Sunday, Aug. 3, 3 p.m., St. Mary's Church, Haverhill Street, Lawrence, Concerto Concert. "Exultate Jubilate," Beda Polanco, soprano; Clarinet Concerto, K. 622, David Irwin, clarinet; Violin Concerto No. 3, K. 216, Brice Farrar, violin; Oboe Concerto, K. 314, Sandy Consiglio, oboe; Bassoon Concerto, K. 191, Jay Lesowski, bassoon. 8 p.m. Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy campus. Sinfonia Concertante, K. 364, Paul Goldsberry, violin, and Catherine Consiglio, viola; "Per Pieta, non Ricerate," Allen Combs, tenor; Piano Concerto, C Major, K. 467, Dragana Bajalovic, piano; Flut Concerto, K. 313, Peggy Friedland, flute.

Wednesday, Aug. 6, 7 p.m. Cochran Chapel, Phillips Academy. "Zaide," an opera in two acts, Suzanne Dimmock as Zaide; Ned Farrar as Gomatz; Don Wilkinson as Allazim; Allen Combs as soliman; and Peter Giveau as Osmin.

These concerts are sponsored by the Phillips Academy Summer Session and there is no charge for admission. The public is invited.

Kitchen Design

by David A. Clement, Designer

Often, no more thought is needed in storing a blender than in shoving it into a corner. However, with the proliferation of countertop appliances, kitchen counters can sometimes come close to resembling a parking lot. The answer to storing these oft-used appliances may be found in a variety of small cabinets, deep drawers, spin-out shelves and built-in compartments. Appliances are then kept out of sight but are easily accessible for use. You may be surprised at the many less-than-conventional built-in options that can be offered by your kitchen expert.

gracious traditional or colonial, these come in custom wood, laminates, as well as traditional stock lines. We'll design a beautiful kitchen, coordinate plumbing, electrical work and decorating items and install it all. As you can see we do a total job. Come talk with us at 1181 Boston Rd., Ward Hill, 9:00-5:30 Daily; Wed. 9-8; Sat. 10-3. Tel. 372-3444.

Named Association President

Allen R. Maxwell, executive vice president of daka, Inc. of Wakefield, has been elected president of the Massachusetts Restaurant Association, New England's largest hospitality organization, with headquarters in Wakefield.

Maxwell was formerly first vice president of the association. He has served as a director and been active in the MRA for many years.

Maxwell stated in his inaugural address that he will devote his prime energies during his term as president to strengthening MRA's membership services. He plans to add a director of membership services to the management staff and conduct a series of regional breakfast meetings to address topics of interest to members in those areas.

Maxwell also stated that he believes that the MRA should take firm stands and early positions on key and controversial issues facing the food service industry. In addition, he plans to reactivate the MRA political action committee and acquire a domicile to house the association.

The MRA recently retained the services of a public relations firm to help create greater industry and public awareness of the MRA and its activities through consistent and timely communications with the media.

Maxwell is one of the founders of daka, Inc. (Dining and Kitchen Administration) of Wakefield, one of the largest independently owned food service and hospitality firms with more than 300 operations in 14 states and 5,000 employees.

A 1961 graduate of the hotel and restaurant management curriculum at the University of New Hampshire, he joined Wilber Food Service Management where he managed college and business food service operations before being named personnel director of Servomation Wilber in 1967.

As one of the originators of daka in 1973 and as its executive vice president, Maxwell is responsible for the staff

Receives Film Festival Award

Terry Kay Bargar of Andover, president of the Boston-based video production firm of Terry Kay & Associates, Inc., has been named the recipient of the Silver Screen award at the U.S. Industrial Film Festival, an annual event where video industry leaders judge and select the best video programs from more than 1,100 entries submitted from across the country. The Silver Screen award was presented to Bargar for her corporate/industrial program entitled "Leach & Garner: The Resource."

Terry Kay & Associates, Inc. writes, produces and directs media-based programming form used in training, sales and marketing and public relations. Clients include the high technology, metals, insurance and automotive businesses.

Leach & Garner Company, headquartered in Attleboro, is a manufacturer and fabricator of precious metals. The international company is the foremost supplier of Karat Gold, Gold Filled, Sterling, and Platinum to the fine jewelry, musical instrument and high technology electronic industries.

"This was a fantastic opportunity to produce and direct a program based on an intrinsically beautiful production—gold. The challenge was the creative treatment. How do you cover four very different company divisions and their products cohesively and completely in a six-minute videotape?" Bargar said. Written by Louis Guedema, "Leach & Garner, The Resource" was a visual description of the company set to a musical script without narration. The program consisted of a catalogue of shots featuring each division.

We edited the entire program according to the music,

Chamber Asks Veteran Business Owners Register

The Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce is looking for Veterans who are small business owners to register with them. The reason is that the US Small Business Administration will give special consideration to Veterans and they are seeking the Chamber's help in identifying those veterans who are small business owners. The Greater Lawrence Chamber is an official SBA Resource Center.

Goulburne F. Busby, Veterans Affairs Officer in the Boston District Office of SBA, says this office is prepared to furnish individual business counseling to veterans who need it. In addition to SBA professionals, the Agency relies heavily on volunteer organizations such as SCORE (Service Corps of Retired Executives) for individual business counseling at the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce. Help is available in such important areas as accounting, marketing, and record keeping.

Mr. Busby said that SBA is required by law to give "special consideration" to veterans in helping them get started in business or to remain in business. The assistance offered by SBA includes help in obtaining bank loans, advice on how to start a business and manage it successfully, and information on how to obtain government procurement contracts.

The U. S. Small Business Administration has a score of financial assistance programs to help people get started, or to remain successfully, in business, and veterans of the Armed Forces are entitled to "special consideration" when they apply.

Mr. Busby points out that prompt processing of loan applications is emphasized for veterans or their surviving dependents, and that these applicants receive consideration for the maximum loan maturity. Loans will not be refused solely because of lack of collateral, provided that the veteran, or his dependents or survivor, will pledge any worthwhile collateral.

Most SBA loans are made by local banks, with SBA guaranteeing up to 90 percent of the total amount, not to exceed 500,000. Other more specialized loan programs are available directly from SBA, but funds for these programs are extremely limited. Nevertheless, veterans may inquire about economic opportunity loans, handicapped assistance loans, energy loans, seasonal lines of credit, contract loans, and surety bond guarantees.

Veterans, or their surviving dependents, can also ask for - and get - "special consideration" in landing government procurement contracts but some homework is necessary in selling products and services to the Federal Government.

Understanding procurement regulation, how they operate, when they apply, and how they are organized, amended and implemented can be a very involved procedure without assistance. That's where the local SBA office can help veterans.

Veterans should let the Chamber (264 Essex Street, Lawrence know who they are so the Chamber and SBA can notify them of any programs of help that are available, or to make an appointment with a SCORE Counselor. Veterans may also contact the SBA Veterans Affairs Officer, Goulburne Busby, in Boston, 150 Causeway St.

Churches Unite For Worship

For the first time in their history, the congregations of West Parish Church and Ballard Vale United Church will worship together for two Sunday services, beginning this Sunday at 10 a.m. at the Ballard Vale United Church. The second service will be held in the West Parish Sanctuary at 9:30 a.m., the following Sunday, Aug. 10.

At this Sunday's service there will be a celebration of Holy Communion, using the Word and Table Service of the United Methodist Church. The Rev. Dirkje Legerstee, associate pastor at West Parish Church, will be the preacher.

The Rev. Gary S. Cornell, pastor of Ballard Vale United Church, will serve as liturgist and celebrant. A time of fellowship and light refreshments will follow the worship.

As the Ballard Vale United Church is the result of a merger of a United Church of Christ congregation and United Methodist Church, both churches are active in the Andover Association of the United Church of Christ.

The Rev. Cornell will be the preacher at the service at West Parish with the Rev. Legerstee serving as liturgist.

Subdivision

proposed revisions to subdivision rules and regulations. Further discussed was the question of requiring "off-site improvements" from developers whose subdivision plans might adversely affect drainage and traffic conditions in areas beyond their physical boundaries.

In answer to questions concerning the board's power to require such improvements, Physical Planner Steve Colyer expressed uncertainty—but they did have power under current regulations to mandate traffic studies in questionable situations.

Board member Paul Curley commented that such studies, when undertaken at the developers' expense, seldom uncover severe problems in planned development.

"No," mused board member Andrew Girdwood, "They say that the traffic isn't as bad as downtown Manhattan..."

Colyer added that the onus of responsibility for requiring off-site improvement ultimately falls to the town and, more specifically, the Department of Public Works. He mentioned that representatives of the town had met with Principal Planner Nancy Jeton on a "very preliminary" basis, to discuss the feasibility of undertaking studies that might eventually lead to a master plan for Andover streets—one of the Planning Board's strongly-desired goals for the future.

A funeral Mass was held at St. Theresa Church. Burial was in Riverside Cemetery in North Reading.

Ethel Peters

Ethel (Lake) Peters, 256 North Main St., died July 23 at her home. She was 71.

Mrs. Peters moved to Andover two years ago. She was born in Wisconsin and lived in Belleville, Ill., from 1941 to 1972. In 1967, she took over her late husband's business in that town.

She received a Licensed Practical Nurse degree in 1977 in Santa Fe, N.M., and worked as an emergency technician in Memorial Hospital in Belleville. She was a member of the American Business Women's Association.

The widow of Jack E. Peters, she is survived by daughters, Mrs. Ronald (Mary) Clarke of Andover and Sister Debra Peters of Atchison, Kan.; a son, Jack, of Portland, Ore.; a brother, George Lake of Haricon, Wis.; three grandchildren and several nieces and nephews.

audience that, although it usually withheld preliminary policy worksheets from publication, it routinely released draft-form documents at public hearings. Tuesday's meeting was not a public hearing; however, Physical Planner Steve Colyer echoed Girdwood's explanation, saying, "These are as close to draft language as you can get."

Board members denied that they knew the content of a decision on the legality of the board's stance, which had been requested of Town Counsel Daniels by the League and had evidently been disclosed to Chairman Houghton—who was not present because of business obligations. They said that that decision would be revealed and discussed at the next meeting, scheduled for Aug. 12.

Reached at his office, Daniels declined comment on the issue. "Traditionally, the rulings that I make are between me and the officer of the town who requested them," he said. "The release has to come from the Planning Board."

Historical Commission Seeks To Preserve Old Properties

By Susan K. O'Neill

If your house is old, if it's unique in design, or if George Washington slept in the guest bedroom, the Andover Historical Commission would like to hear from you.

According to Chairman John Lewis, the local commission is looking for buildings that might be added to Andover's entries in the National Historical Register. "We're wondering how many houses we're missing," he says.

Homes on the federal register are recognized as historically significant, says Lewis, and are, therefore, preserved against demolition. In addition, registered businesses receive certain tax advantages.

Those interested in registering a home should call or write to the local commission. Although age of the building might play an important role in its desirability for national designation, Lewis says that it is not always the deciding factor.

Often, the building's historical significance is more important. As an example, Lewis cites the Emery house at 88 Central St., which is currently being considered for registration. It is old—built in the early 1700s—but it is more notable because it once housed the man who arrested Andover's "witches" during New England's era of "witchcraft fever."

In some cases, the style of a building might also qualify it for the registry. Lewis cites one case in which two homes of the same era, located side-by-side, were considered; one was accepted. The other was rejected because, unlike its companion, it was not a unique example of the architecture of the period. Also in this category, says Lewis, is the Bancroft School, which has been registered as an example of modern architecture.

After a building is recommended, the Andover Historical Commission reviews it and its background, then forwards an application and their recommendations to the Massachusetts Historical Commission. Lewis notes that a local recommendation against registration does not necessarily lead to a state commission rejection.

When an application is approved by the state, it is then sent to Washington, D.C. There, the building is put on the federal registry. According to Lewis, the complete process, from application to registration, takes an average of three to four months.

In addition to individual homes, Andover also boasts six federal "historic districts," recognized by the federal government for their age and/or historic significance within the town. These include Shawsheen Village; districts on Central Street, on Main and Locke Streets, and on Lowell Street and Reservation Road (the West Parish Center District); a "Multi-Resource" area composed of combined and isolated sites around the town center; and Phillips Academy.

Lewis says that renovations to homes and changes to neighborhood districts on the federal registry are not subjected to special restrictions or regulation. At present, an owner who wishes to impose such restrictions on a piece of property may do so by building them into the deed.

For the future, however, Lewis says that the Andover Historical Commission is considering establishing local historic districts in such areas as Shawsheen and Central Street. Within a local district, exterior changes to homes would be reviewed by the commission, as would potential

Maintenance Chief Works On Ten-Year Plan For Buildings

By Karen L. Day

The Department of Municipal Maintenance is developing a ten-year Master Plan for major projects throughout the school and municipal services systems. The plan would include major projects requested by the various departments.

Fred L. Jeaeschke, director of municipal maintenance, "hopes to have" the plan in place by October, and is already "starting to get feedback" on requests to all departments to submit their needs plan for the master plan period. The police and fire departments have filed their requests already, and Jeaeschke expects to begin receiving requests from the schools once officials have returned from vacations. Jeaeschke believes that a master plan would allow for better financial planning by the department.

Municipal maintenance has been working on several projects under the Capital Projects Fund for fiscal year 1987. Storage, waterlines, a heater and lighting have been put in the maintenance building at a cost of $25,000. Air conditioning previously purchased for the Public Safety Center is costing the department $10,000 to install.

The rest of the Capital Projects Fund money will be spent on the schools.

Handicap ramps at the high school and doors at both the high school and West Elementary will be put in at a cost of $20,000 in order to meet code requirements.

The completion of heating control replacements ($15,000) and the purchase and installation of the HVAC system ($165,000) at the high school will cost a total of $180,000. The HVAC system will provide air circulation to the interior portion of the building which houses the Media Center, library and offices.

The department is spending $22,500 in order to replace valves, piping and heater controls at Bancroft, West Junior High, West Elementary and Sanborn schools. A back-up replacement boiler at West Junior High will cost $59,500 to purchase and install. West Junior High has already been refurbished with a completely new roof costing $275,000.

Although asbestos has already been removed from the classroom areas of West Elementary as a health hazard, it will cost $100,000 to complete removal from the boiler room and crawl spaces of the school.

Lack Of Historic Interest Dooms Elm Street Property

It was a case of "Now you see it; now, you don't."

Last week, the down-at-the-heels green duplex stood, as it had for more than 200 years, in the lot at 35-37 Elm St. that abuts the Free Christian Church.

This week, the lot is a piece of earth scraped to raw soil. In the middle lies an orderly heap of rock and splintered board; at the rear stands a small green shed. Nailed to a tree at the margin of the scene, a basketball backboard shifts in the breeze, looking awkward and orphaned.

The house is gone, as completely as if it never was.

With the house, a measure of controversy has also been removed from the lot.

According to Town Manager Kenneth Mahony, the lot, which is now owned by Donald Richmond of Richmond Properties, was considered as a potential site for an auxiliary town parking lot approximately a year ago, when it was first offered for sale by its previous owner. The concept was discarded, in large part due to criticism by abutters.

Ironically, one of the objections voiced by neighbors was that, to build a parking lot, the 1777 house on the parcel would have to be razed.

Aware of popular sentiment in favor of keeping the house intact, Mahony said, "I had kind of hoped to move the house to do what we wanted to do with it (the lot)."

Records kept by the Andover Historical Society indicate that the house was originally built as a duplex, and that Captain Benjamin Ames, the man credited with mustering Andover troops for the war at Bunker Hill, once lived in it. In 1975, according to Barbara Thibault of the Society, the Andover Historical Commission considered it for possible placement on the National Historic Register.

Ultimately, however, they did not recommend it.

This lack of official recognition undoubtedly contributed to the building's eventual downfall. Had it been designated an historic building, it would have been protected against arbitrary destruction.

Richmond, who also owns other property on Elm Street, purchased the parcel at 35-37 Elm on May 26 of this year. He bought it, he said, for the land. According to Thibault, he made it known that he would be willing to sell the house—which was in admittedly poor condition—to anyone willing to move it.

He received no takers.

Last week, with Richmond's permission, members of the Historical Society took interior and exterior photos of the house at 35-37 Elm St. for the sake of record. On July 26, the house was demolished. Richmond says that he has no immediate plans for the empty lot, but that he will hold the property for future use.

Appreciative

Andover Police Chief James Johnson presented a plaque of appreciation to Andover resident Robert Boileau, who owns Screenprint Industries in Wilmington. The Police Department wanted to express appreciation to Boileau for his company's contributions of graphic services. Most recently, Boileau donated his time and effort in providing Andover's police cruiser doors with new colored town seals, replacing the old black and white seals.

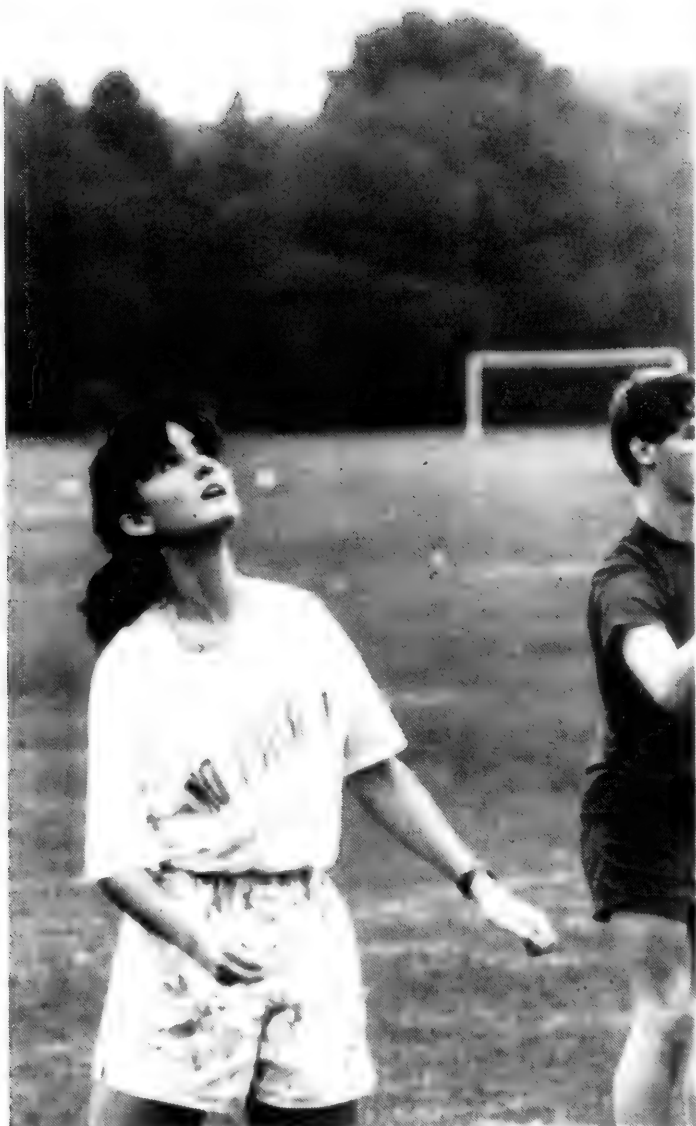

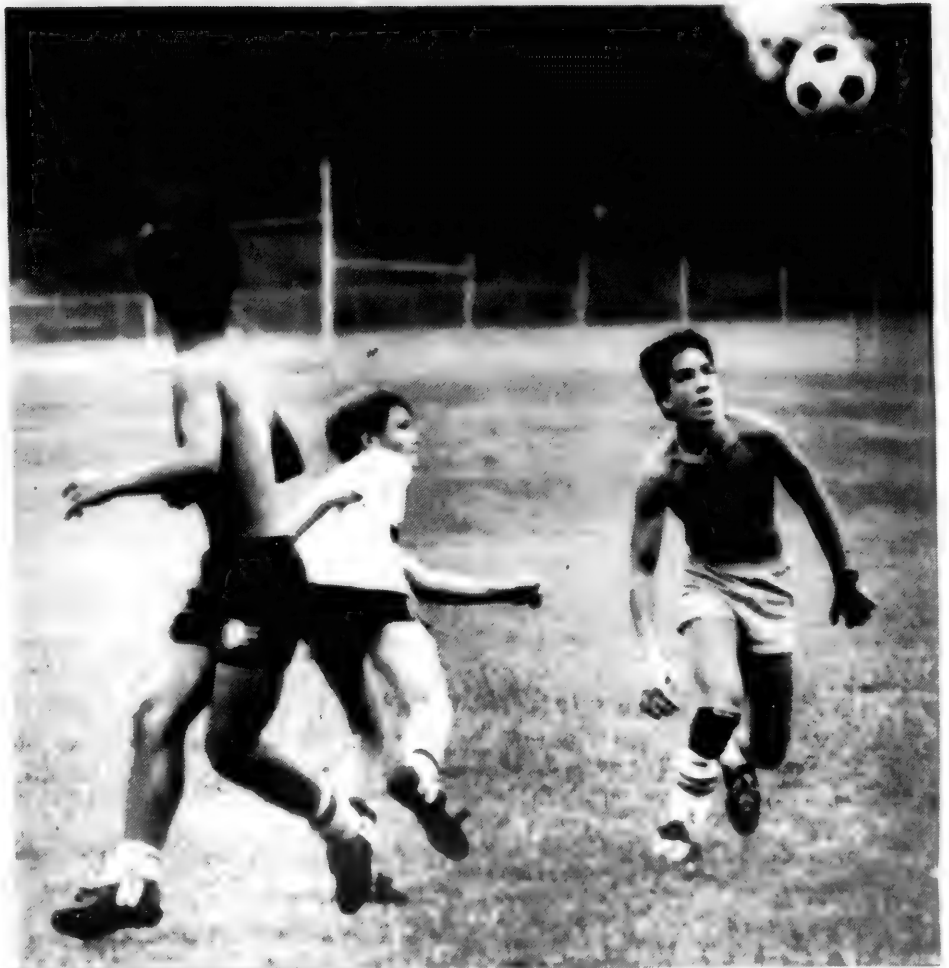

Soccer Camp Celebrates Ten Years

In the summer of 1976 on the campus of Phillips Academy, 100 youngsters participated in a one-week soccer camp under the coaching expertise of Dave Amundsen, Andover High Soccer Coach, and Bill Tarbox, Greater Lawrence Vocational Soccer Coach. Nine years later the same two coaches still provide their expertise but the figures have changed a little as more than 600 boys and girls ranging in age from eight to 18 representing 40 communities from Mass. and N.H. participate in a four week camp, better known as the Andover Soccer Camp. The camp, co-ordinated by Joe Wennik, Phillips Academy's Summer Session Director and sponsored by the Phillips Academy Athletic Department, celebrates its tenth anniversary as they finish up their third week of teaching the fundamentals and improvement methods of the game of soccer and general good sportsmanship. A full day, five days a week of instructions and games are co-ordinated by Amundsen and Tarbox with the help of a staff of 27 coaches and college soccer players, all teaching the boys and girls the hard work and fun involved with soccer. Photos clockwise from upper left: Karen Fragala, 14, treats a minor head injury with a bag of ice while quenching a major thirst with an ice cube; students take their soccer balls for a roll while crossing the field in conversation; students get into a game; J.D. Abdinoor, 11, practices the drills for a goalie; Marnie Moore, 16, of Lynn keeps her eyes on the ball during a heading technique drill; Instructor Kathy Hutchins, a St. Anselm College soccer player, watches some students mix it up.

Roughin' The Rails

Railroad Street in Andover appropriately gained its designation, obviously from its proximity to the rails which once carried hundreds upon hundreds of passenger and freight cars on a daily basis.

Times, of course, have changed as far as the frequency of locomotives pouring down the rails, but the name remains as well as some rails which should have been removed years ago.

On Railroad Street are two sets of rails which led to sidings for what once was a cement plant, now the site of businesses and possible future office and apartment use, and also to the once-thriving Tyer Rubber Company now converted to Andover Commons, an apartment complex.

Neither siding has been in use for well over a decade.

Yet, the rails remain for those traversing them in their sedans to have their liver jarred as they pass over them.

What it must feel like if you're a Honda or bike rider is virtually unimaginable.

Useless Rails

Railroad lines to abandoned sidings off Railroad street leave the street in bumpy condition for travelers. Above, the railroad crossing warning sign still in place, but a useless warning since no rail cars have passed over Railroad street in over a decade.

And, how about the apartment dweller at Andover Commons who must look out at a couple of sets of tracks heading toward the building?

Any model railroad enthusiast would tell you a good set of double O gauge Lionels in the den would be a lot of fun, but to look out on the potential of a couple of Wabash or Central Pacific freight cars bearing down on the living room is a bit much.

Frankly it doesn't seem too much to ask to have the railroad visit the area and remove the tracks and improve the road surface, just as a public service.

With full knowledge that the Boston and Maine, which owns the tracks, would plead their case under the name of Broke and Miserly, it can be contended that funding of such a project would not be economically crippling and assuredly some funds could be gained from selling the steel rails.

For the safety and general welfare of the public, either the railroad or someone should take same action.

The Nuclear Power Dilemma

The unleashed power of the atom has changed everything in the world, save our way of thinking. . . . Albert Einstein

Nuclear power is dangerous. So are coal mines, automobiles and airplanes. With each new technological achievement, society weighs the risks, costs and benefits. Economic and political choices follow this assessment.

I believe, given adequate and accurate information, people almost always make correct choices. Until Chernobyl and until neighboring New Hampshire was selected as a potential nuclear waste repository (dump), people had neither adequate nor accurate information regarding the real costs and risks of nuclear power. Now it is no surprise that public opinion is changing.

Despite vociferous warnings of scientists and environmentalists, energy choices were made years ago which put all our research and development eggs into the nuclear basket. With this choice came the decision to subsidize every problem associated with nuclear power and mislead the taxpayer regarding its true cost.

Nuclear power could not exist in a true free market without government subsidy. For example, government (read "taxpayer") picks up the tab for the industry's liability insurance. Why? No private insurer would touch it.

However, the largest subsidy, the phenomenal costs associated with decommissioning and waste disposal, are yet to come. Passing debts of all kinds to our children is a popular but misguided notion today and one we ought to consider carefully in the nuclear debate. I celebrated with New Hampshire when its name was temporarily removed as a disposal site last month because I never thought it was in Andover's best interest to have I-93 the trucking route for tons of the most dangerous material known to us.

But, New Hampshire's "victory" is both short lived and unbelievably ironic. Western states are already in court challenging this decision, because one of the basic tenets of the Nuclear Waste Disposal Act was that the East will share responsibility for housing high level waste—some of which will remain dangerous for thousands of years. It is ironic because Seabrook will become exactly what the state was fighting, a high-level repository. There is simply nowhere else to put the waste and no solution is in sight.

As a member of the Energy Committee, I am participating in numerous hearings this summer on bills dealing with safety, licensing, evacuation plans and costs associated with both Pilgrim and Seabrook. After considering much testimony, I believe the biggest hurdle to overcome in rethinking our energy future is the notion that it is somehow too late to turn back. Similar to the "Vietnam syndrome," many feel that we have invested too much in nuclear power and, thus, we are locked in.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

Condo Law seminar is coming up next week on Monday, Aug. 4, at 12:30 p.m. Be sure to come to this presentation on the protection, restrictions and limitations of condo conversion as determined by the new conversion law. If you live in a condo, rent an apartment threatened by imminent conversion or are thinking about purchasing a unit, this meeting is for you. Don't miss it.

The hot lunch program summer session will end August 15 and, after a brief vacation for the people who provide the lunch, will resume Thursday, Sept. 4. The time will revert to 12 noon, but the cost will remain 50 cents. Reservations must be made by 4 p.m. the day before the luncheon you plan to attend. You really ought to give it a try. The food is good, nicely served and you have an opportunity to eat with some really nice people—your Andover contemporaries.

During the lunch shut-down period, the Council on Aging is going to hold an old-fashioned chicken barbecue on August 25 with good food and great entertainment at a cost of $4.50. Tickets are on sale at the senior center. The party will be held at the center and you will want to be there, but you have to get your tickets now.

Walking is such good exercise, but sometimes it is hard to do with any regularity if you have to do it alone. Every Monday, Wednesday and Friday, under the leadership of Gwen Smith, the walking club of the senior center go out walking. If the weather is inclement, they have a little meeting and discuss other places to walk and alternative days. There is no obligation, no registration, you just come and you will be warmly welcomed. This represents a good opportunity to get in shape for such exciting events as the walk with Governor Dukakis on August 19 in Marblehead and the Governor's Cup Race on September 21. Gwen Smith has details on both events. Why not call her at the senior center and chat with her about walking and its virtues, as well as these special opportunities?

The following trips are lined up for your consideration and participation: September 9, Edaville Railroad with its cranberry bogs and chicken barbecue for $20 for the day; September 16, the Stars of the Lawrence Welk Show at the North Shore Theatre, $27, including luncheon; September 18, the Eastern States Exposition for $15, which includes transportation and admission to the fair. Don't wait until it is too late. Sign up this week.

Mahony Named To Board

On July 16, Town Manager Kenneth Mahony was appointed a member of the Joint Labor Management Committee. The special state committee was created by the Governor in 1980, upon the abolition of binding arbitration for municipal employees, to assist communities in the settlement of labor disputes.

According to Mahony, the committee is composed of 12 volunteer members and is headed by former U.S. Labor Secretary Dr. John Dunlop, who is a professor at Harvard University.

Prior to his appointment as a member, which carries a one-year term, Mahony served two years as an associate member of the committee.

changes to the district. Lewis says that such a designation would help residents control the character of their neighborhoods in the face of business expansion or infringement.

Because local historic districts can only be created by a town meeting vote, says Lewis, he and the commission would appreciate local "input" on the feasibility of bringing the matter before the general public.

To discuss the establishment of local districts, or to recommend a building for the National Historical Register, contact Lewis through the office of the Town Manager.

Dividend

Compugraphic Corporation (NYSE-CPU) reported revenues of $83,015,000 for the quarter ended June 28 compared with revenues of $105,106,000 for the second quarter of 1985. A regular quarterly dividend of 15 cents was also announced. Year-to-date revenues were $169,945,000, compared with revenues of $212,566,000 for the first six months of 1985.

Compugraphic had previously reported that net income in the second quarter was expected to approach break even or a possible loss. Although a slight profit was achieved at the operating level, the company has reported a net loss for the quarter of $1,841,000, or 22 cents per share, and a net loss ing less electricity than present incandescent lights. It is a move to increase spending efficiency and minimize the maintenance and replacement of lighting in the schools.

Carpet is being replaced in various rooms of South School at a cost of $15,000, while the completion of repairs at Bancroft will cost $17,000.

There will be $20,000 spent to finish the Chandler Road playing fields. This will include the installation of baseball diamonds and soccer goalposts.

In addition to these major projects, Jeaeschke emphasized that there is the usual ongoing maintenance of buildings. There are regular inspections, by both state and local inspectors, that the department must make sure all structures are acceptable.

The department is now painting throughout the system and looking toward the possibility of roof work on both Sanborn and West Elementary Schools.

Jeaeschke is working on a grant from the state School Building Assistance bureau to reimburse the town for 60 percent of the cost of West Junior High's boiler and the state is also expected to provide funding for the removal of the asbestos at West Elementary. The department is also awaiting approval of energy grants from the federal government which come through the state.

Women, Negotiations & Divorce

Most property and custody settlements are reached through negotiations rather than litigation. Negotiations can be difficult when a marriage has broken down and feelings have been hurt. You may fear that you will be overpowered in this process by both your husband and your attorney, and be coerced into accepting a settlement which does not meet your needs. The advice of an attorney both knowledgeable in family law and sensitive to your fears and wishes can help you assert your rights and negotiate a fair settlement.

Andover Gold Inches Toward Title

By Rick Harrison

Andover Gold moved within one victory of clinching its second straight Greater-Reading Pony League East Division championship, winning four of five games the past two weeks to improve to 9-2-2 overall.

The lone loss was to Lynnfield (9-5), while the victories came at the expense of the West Division-leading Reading Jets (12-7), the North Reading Braves (12-9), the Reading Y's Men (10-5) and the Wilmington Wildcats (5-2).

AG was scheduled for a busy final week of the regular season, meeting the Reading Astros (Monday) and Stoneham Cubs (Tuesday) before finishing with the Stoneham Tigers (Friday), Reading Jets (Saturday) and Wilmington (next Monday).

Andover Gold, 12-7

Three times Gold was forced to come from behind against the Reading Jets, and it wasn't until a four-run burst in the top of the seventh that the victory at Reading High was assured.

Relief ace Scott Wallace (2-0, four saves) earned his first victory of the season with 2-2/3 innings of two-hit, shutout work.

Starter Glenn Farnham didn't pitch badly, but the hard-hitting Jets produced some timely safeties.

Reading bolted to a 3-0 lead in the bottom of the first, but Farnham settled down and Gold rebounded with three in the top of the third.

Andy Shea started the rally with a two-out single, stole second, and raced across when Scott Wallace grounder produced an error.

Tom Murray then launched a 400-foot, two-run homer to straightaway centerfield that tied the contest 3-3.

Reading responded with two runs in the bottom of the fourth, but Gold counter-punched with three in the fifth to grab a 6-5 lead.

Barry Connors ripped a leadoff single to leftfield, Mark Tucker slammed an RBI triple, Wallace lofted a sacrifice fly to re-tie the game, Murray hammered a triple off the leftfield fence, and Chris Concemi found the left-centerfield gap for an RBI double.

The Jets came back with a pair in the bottom of the fifth, making it 7-6, but Gold took the lead for good with two runs in the sixth.

Joe Lyons slapped a single, Keith Abernathy reached on an error sending Lyons to third, Chris Patten dropped a perfect suicide squeeze bunt, and Tucker drilled a two-out single.

Glenn Farnham's two-run double down the rightfield line, after he'd been robbed of hits the previous three at-bats, highlighted the four-run seventh for AG.

Murray, Concemi, Lyons and Tucker led the 11-hit assault with two safeties each.

The Gold infield of Patten (third base), Wallace and Farnham (shortstop) and Andy Shea (second base) combined to handle 12 chances flawlessly.

Lynnfield, 9-5

Gold committed five errors and generally came up with a flat performance against Lynnfield, which scored seven unearned runs en route to the triumph at Andover High.

Righthander Barry Connors (1-1-1) was saddled with the loss, while Joe Lyons and Keith Abernathy turned in creditable relief efforts.

Gold inched ahead 1-0 in the first when Scott Wallace (4-for-4) singled and consecutive two-out walks were issued to Chris Concemi, Mark Tucker and Connors (RBI).

Lynnfield moved ahead 6-1 after plating four runs in the third and two in the fourth, but Gold battled back with a run in the bottom of the fourth without benefit of a hit (walk, error, wild pitch and balk).

Lynnfield notched its final three runs in the top of the fifth.

Gold collected a single run in the bottom of the fifth when Keith Abernathy walked, Scott Wallace spanked a one-out single and Chris Concemi laced a two-out RBI single.

AG had runners at second and third in this stanza, but failed to produce any more runs.

Gold had a potential uprising quelled in the sixth when a runner was picked off second base, and the final two markers came in the seventh as Abernathy singled, Wallace doubled and a run crossed on an infield out.

Wallace was practically the whole offense with four of Gold's six hits.

Andover Gold, 12-9

Gold returned to its winning ways against North Reading, constructing an early 7-1 lead and then fighting off several challenges by the Braves.

Scott Wallace earned his second victory in relief, but once again the AG defense faltered as all nine North Reading runs were unearned.

Wallace fanned four and didn't walk a batter during his four-inning stint.

Gold batted around and produced six runs in the second, after giving the Braves a 1-0 edge in the top of the first.

Key strokes in the second were an RBI triple by Andy Shea, RBI double by Wallace and RBI single by Chris Lane. Chris Patten also lashed a single in the big inning.

Joe Lyons belted an RBI triple in the third, rescuing Glenn Farnham who had reached on an error, and Gold appeared to be in good shape with a 7-1 cushion.

Two costly errors enabled North Reading to collect four runs in the fourth, although AG cancelled out most of the damage with three in the bottom of the stanza.

Wallace drew a one-out walk, Murray drilled his third homerun of the season to right-centerfield, Chris Concemi singled, stole second and scored the 10th run on Farnham's basehit.

Gold made it 11-5 in the fifth when Chris Lane walked, took third on Joe Lyons' single and scored on a wild pitch.

Gold

In the sixth Murray clouted a one-out triple and alertly galloped home with the final run on Concerni's infield out.

North Reading made it interesting with four runs in the top of the seventh, parlaying a pair of infield errors and four straight hits.

Gold escaped with the victory, however, when catcher Chris Patten gunned down a would-be stealer and Wallace fanned the last batter he faced.

Murray and Lyons led the 10-hit attack with two apiece, while Murray scored three runs, Wallace two and Farnham two.

Leftfielder Chris Lane and centerfielder Tom Murray both made outstanding catches for the victors.

Andover Gold, 10-5

Fourteen-year-old righthander Keith Abernathy made his Gold pitching debut a winning one, tossing four frames of three-hit, five-strikeout ball before giving way to Scott Wallace (fourth save) in this game against the Reading Y's Men at Andover High.

AG leapt to a 4-0 first-inning advantage on RBI hits by Tom Murray, Glenn Farnham and Barry Connors.

Gold added a run in the third on Chris Concerni's RBI double, and a run in the fourth on Scott Wallace's RBI single, but the Y's men remained in contention with solo tallies in the second and fourth.

Reading produced a pair of runs in the fifth, closing to 6-4, but Andover Gold retaliated with one in the fifth when Concerni singled, stole second and crossed on Abernathy's two-out infield single.

The final Y's Men run came in the sixth, but in the home half AG collected three as Andy Shea singled, Wallace singled, Tom Murray hammered a double and Glenn Farnham lofted a sacrifice fly.

Wallace then shut the door in the seventh to preserve the triumph.

Murray ignited the 12-hit attack with a perfect 4-for-4 night, while Wallace and Concerni were both 2-for-4. Murray scored three runs and Andy Shea two.

Andover Gold, 5-2

Andover Gold righthander Mike Giammasi (3-1) and Wilmington Wildcats' sidearmner Scott McMillan (5-2) hooked up in a classic pitcher's duel for four innings, neither allowing a hit or run and McMillan adding eight strikeouts to his stats.

Gold eventually broke through for a pair of runs in the top of the fifth at the North Intermediate School field.

Joe Lyons looped an opposite-field single to right, pinch-runner Chris Lane stole second, and Mark Tucker came through with a clutch two-out, two-strike RBI double to left-centerfield.

Giammasi then walked, Andy Shea laced an RBI single to right, and Scott Wallace walked to load the bases for Tom Murray.

Murray hit the ball well to centerfield, but the catch was made for the final out and the game was still in doubt at 2-0.

AG added its third run in the sixth as Chris Concemi lined a leadoff single to centerfield, took second on Glenn Farnham's sacrifice bunt and scored on Joe Lyons' single. Barry Connors followed with a single, but McMillan whiffed the next batter to end the threat.

Giammasi's no-hitter continued through the fifth, but in the bottom of the sixth the Wildcats collected their first three hits and their only two runs.

Clinging to a tenuous 3-2 advantage entering the final inning, Gold came through with a pair of insurance runs against the tiring McMillan.

Mark Tucker opened the stanza with a walk, Giammasi laid down a sacrifice bunt, Scott Wallace drew a two-out walk, and consecutive RBI singles were spiked by Murray and Concemi.

Giammasi, who finished with a four-hitter and five strikeouts, allowed a leadoff double in the seventh but then retired the last three hitters easily.

Gold's defense produced outstanding plays by third baseman Joe Lyons, shortstop Scott Wallace, centerfielder Tom Murray and catcher Chris Concemi.

AG gunned down a Wilmington runner at the plate in the sixth, Murray tracking down a gap-shot and firing to cutoff man Wallace who threw a strike to catcher Concemi.

The winners also foiled a Wildcats' suicide squeeze try, third baseman Joe Lyons making a nice scoop during a rundown and catcher Concemi blocking the plate and tagging McMillan.

Lyons and Concemi had two hits apiece as AG finished with eight safeties.

Volunteers Needed

The Joslin Diabetes Center needs volunteers for a study to determine whether long-term complications of diabetes can be prevented or limited through the careful monitoring of blood-sugar levels. Participants must be between the ages of 13 and 39, have been on insulin therapy for fewer than 15 years and have no major complications associated with diabetes such as eye, nerve and kidney disease.

Free diabetes supplies and treatment from an expert team of medical and research specialists will be provided to all qualified volunteers. Joslin is one of 27 centers in the U.S. and Canada conducting this study, which is sponsored by the National Institute of Diabetes and Digestive and Kidney Diseases. Known as the Diabetes Control and Complications Trial (DCCT), the study is the first to evaluate scientifically the theory that people with diabetes can limit their chances of developing debilitating or life-threatening complications by maintaining their blood sugars at close-to-normal levels.

Participants will be placed randomly into one of two groups. Those in the standard treatment group will observe a daily routine involving diet and exercise, one or two insulin injections and urine or blood-sugar monitoring at home. Those in the experimental group will use diet and exercise, take three to four insulin injections per day or use an insulin pump and monitor their blood-sugar levels frequently at home. Members of the standard group must visit Joslin every three months, while those in the experimental group must do so once a month.

For more information, call Joslin DCCT Coordinator Nancy Mitchell, R.N.

National All Stars In Title Quest

By John Novelline

By winning two thrilling come-from-behind games this week, Andover National became the first Andover All-Star team to advance to the state championship which will be held in Westfield Friday and Saturday.

Andover National 4 - Wilmington 3

Andover opened the game in the first inning when, after starter Chris Hall downed Wilmington in order, a Jim-Landry single was the key hit in opening up a 1-0 lead. However, Wilmington took advantage of a couple of walks and errors to score single runs in the third and fourth, taking a 2-1 lead. In the fifth Wilmington picked up a third run and a line drive off Hall's leg forced Andover's hurler to leave the game. Southpaw Jim Hanning came in to get the final out.

Justin Hesenius started the inning off with a single and Matt Daniels walked. Two outs later, Brian Novelline knocked the first pitch over the right field fence for a clutch three-run homer to give Andover a 4-3 lead. Hanning retired Wilmington in the sixth, picking up his third relief win of the tournament.

Andover National 5 - Beverly East 4

Andover needed seven innings and fantastic relief pitching from Matt Daniels to turn a 4-0 deficit into a dramatic win.

Daniels came on in the top of the second after Beverly scratched a run off of starter Ben Russell. Beverly took advantage of an error and a walk in the top of the third by tagging a three-run homer off Daniels, but the Andover right-hander shut the door from this point on, allowing just two hits over the final four innings.

Andover got three runs in the fourth when Matt Harris, Scott Halecki and Chris Zappala all singled for the first run and ground outs by Daniels and Jim Hanning brought the next two runs across.

Andover tied the score in the fifth when walks to Brian Novelline and Ggarret Fferris and Dan Waitkevich's fielders choice left runners on first and third with one out. Harris hit a deep fly ball to right field, driving in Novelline.

The score remained 4-4 until the bottom of the seventh when Novelline led off with a line single to center. He went to second on a passed ball and two outs later, Harris singled to knock home the winning run, giving Andover a berth in the state semifinals.

The 1986 Audi 5000CS Turbo, with its 158 horsepower turbocharged engine, is an automobile that is most difficult to pass on the highway. And with the prices we're offering on these high performance luxury sedans, they won't be easy to pass up in the showroom.

Your opportunity to see the 5000CS Turbo is indeed rare, because we have but a few left.

Test drive the 1986 Audi 5000CS Turbo. It will go from 0 to 50 in a quick 5.6 seconds. How quickly it goes from the showroom to your house, however, is up to you.

*Mfr's. sugg. retail price for the 5000CS Turbo begins at $25,275. Title, taxes, transportation, registration, dealer delivery charges additional.

J.G. Levis Electric 6

Tyler Construction 7

The Levis played a strong game with good hitting by Mandy Gallant, Leigh Abernathy, Kirsten Nowell and Candace Yergation. They held the lead until the third inning when a rally by Tyler hitters Julie Ring, Amy Cassidy and Jen Monroe tied the game. A two-run home run by Susan Hoffman in the fourth inning put Tyler in the lead. A Levis' rally in the bottom of the sixth tied the game, but Tyler prevailed with a game-winning triple by Jennifer Lewis scoring Jen Monroe who lead off with a double.

Royal Realty 8 - J.G. Levis Electric 6

A tense see-saw game with the lead changing several times showcased fine pitching by Meghan Lynch (Royals) and Diane D'Angelo (Levis). The bats were hot with strong hits by Kirsten Nowell, Katie Roberts and Carrie Messina (Levis) and Melanie Maguire and Meghan Lynch (Royals). The Royals answered the challenge in the fifth inning with Tara Wrobel driving in two for the three game-winning runs.

R&R Roofing 12

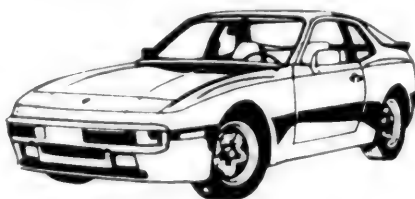

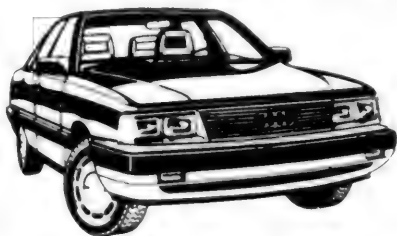

Tyler Construction 4

In spite of strong hitting by Tyler's Amy Cassidy, Jenju Joo and Michelle Morey, R&R Roofing was not to be denied. They played a strong offensive and defensive game against Tyler extending their unbeaten record to five games and breaking Tyler's four game-winning streak. Strong defensive plays by Tyler's Amy Cassidy and Jen Monroe at second and Lani Johnson at first kept Tyler in the game all the way.

Royal Realty 12 - North Andover 3

The Royals played an excellent game with outstanding hitting by Katie Walsh, Kristie Barrows, Suzanne Doucette and Larissa Wiley. Their pitchers were Tara Wrobel, Melissa Romig and Melissa Infurna. North Andover hit strongly to score their runs, but the Royals' defense was not to be denied. Two ground-out plays from third to first by Doucette and Walsh squelched North Andover's offense.

Allard Pitches Blue Into First Place

Andover Blue, on the strength of Glenn Allard's arm, moved into first place in the Suburban Pony League's East Division by beating Stoneham, who held a half-game lead over the Blue, 9-3.

Allard was superb scattering six hits, striking out seven and walking only two over seven innings. He also helped his own cause with a two-run double in a big sixth inning for the home team.

The Blue scored two in the first and one in the fourth. Stoneham scored two in the top of the fifth, but the Blue came right back and got three in the bottom half of the fifth on a walk to Bill O'Brien and three straight hits by John Russell, Tom Tormey and Chris Eggert. The Blue sealed the victory in the sixth on singles by Mat Pothier and Steve Howes, Allard's double and a single by John Moossa. Bret Hammond made two fine catches in left field at key times in the game.

The Blue's record now stands at 10-4-1 with three games left to play.

Depot House of Pizza: They've Got Your Number

"Depot Pizza."
"I'd like to order two pizzas.
One large mushroom and one small cheese."

"Number 39 in fifteen minutes."

"Depot Pizza."

"I want three grinders to go.
One large cheesesteak, one large meatball, and one small italian."

"Number 40 in fifteen minutes."

When you call Depot House of Pizza, it may be one of the few times in your life when you don't mind being a number. Depot Pizza's call-in service provides you with an efficient way to have food on your table when time is at a premium.

Depot House of Pizza may seem unassuming on the outside, but once you step through the door and catch the delicious aromas drifting from the mammoth ovens and taste the variety of foods they offer, you'll realize that there is nothing ordinary about it.

Depot House of Pizza offers regular and family size pizzas to which you can add a choice of fourteen different toppings. Depot Pizza offers the "special"
pizza which features hamburger, sausage, pepper, mushroom,
ham, salami, onions, peppers, and cheese. You may want to bring someone with you to help carry it home. Depot also has a "special" grinder with turkey,
roast beef and bacon.

The main stock-in-trade at the Depot is their delicious pizza and grinders. The grinders can be toasted in the oven if desired.

Jimmy Kakoutsis, owner/chef, brings twenty years of experience to the Depot and takes pride in making everything from scratch in order to give the public a fresh product. In addition to pizza and grinders, Depot Pizza offers spaghetti with sauce, sausage or meatball. If you prefer a lighter fare, order the Greek Salad or their delicious Antipasto.

Take-out is not your only option at the Depot. You can eat in a casual atmosphere with comfortable booths. Order your pizza, grab a bag of chips and a soda, and your "what's for dinner" worries are over. The Depot is open 11-11 seven days a week.
Call 475-0055 - they've got your

AAA Vacuum: A Clean Sweep

If you were amazed at the way the Red Sox swept the American League East in the first half of the baseball season, you'll be astounded at the way the Oreck XL is sweeping the whole country. The Oreck XL is the original, lightweight, top-fill, hotel fast-vac designed for institutional and commercial use. The Oreck XL weighs an unbelievable eight pounds, but as owner Bob Jackson says, "It's no toy." Although it's lightweight to the touch, it's a heavyweight in cleaning ability.

The Oreck XL's superior cleaning power begins with the new, 15% more powerful Xtended Life motor. Cleaning time is cut in half with the double helical brush, and the Oreck XL uses 50% less electricity. The Oreck XL adjusts height automatically so you can move from a luxuriously plush carpet to a bare floor without missing a crumb. If the Oreck XL hasn't already sold itself, perhaps Bruce Arnold of WCCM, Dave Maynard of WBZ, the White House Staff, the cleaning crews at the Drake, Diplomat, Ramada et al can convince you of its merits since they're all fans. And the Oreck XL won't fade in the stretch. It has a two-year limited warranty.

The Oreck XL is only one of a huge selection of vacuums at AAA Vacuum including canister, upright, central vac and a choice of hand-held models. They even sell a special kit for those do-it-yourselfers who wish to install their own central vac. If you'd rather leave it to the professionals, AAA Vacuum will arrange to have it installed for you.

Sales Manager Scott Fieldhouse takes pride in the fact that AAA Vacuum provides expert repairs by certified, factory trained technicians on all makes and models. They sell and service all major brands.

Now is the perfect time to visit AAA Vacuum at 267 S. Broadway in Lawrence to take advantage of their summer sale which includes all vacuums. AAA is open Mon-Sat, 8-5. Phone 685-0520.

Andover 14 - 2 Chelmsford 2

Ricky Saggese struck out seven and Sam McLellan truck out three as they combined to pitch Andover to a 14-2 victory over Chelmsford. The game was called at the end of four innings due to a tournament rule that the game is over after four innings with a team ahead by 12 or more runs. Todd Harris had three hits, all doubles, and knocked in three runs. Saggese delivered a two-run home run over the right centerfield fence. Dan Hansberry, Brian Flanagan and Jon Iarobino contributed two hits each.

Andover 11 - Lowell 7

Todd Harris relieved Todd Cadagan in the third inning and shut out Lowell over the last 3 and 1/3 innings. Cadagan struck out four, but gave way after walking three. Harris walked only one and struck out six. Jeff Lembo, Paul Allard and Dan Hansberry had two hits each with Allard getting three RBIs. Sam McLellan also had a two RBI single. Brian Hussey and Ryan Moynihan were outstanding in the field.

Revere 2 - Andover 1

In a game well played by both teams, Revere beat Andover 2-1 in seven innings, scoring the winning run in the bottom of the seventh on a wild pitch.

Ricky Saggese was outstanding, pitching all seven innings. He struck out seven and walked only three, getting the big strike out when he needed it, and gave up only four hits. He also scored the only Andover run with some five base running in the third inning. Brian Flanagan had two hits and made several outstanding plays at third base. Paul Allard, in centerfield, and Ed Jurdi, in left, also made some outstanding catches.

Tourney

The third annual St. John's Hospital Men's Guild charity golf tournament, to be held Monday, Oct. 6, at Indian Ridge Country Club, will honor Dr. Brendan D. Leahey, a well-known ophthalmologist and long-time resident of Lowell.

"Each year, the Men's Guild honors one individual who has greatly contributed to the enhancement and growth of St. John's Hospital as well as to the Greater Lowell community. Dr. Leahey, who completed the first successful corneal transplant in New England in April 1938 at the Massachusetts Eye & Ear Infirmary, has benefited St. John's patients with many more over the past 40 years," said James F. O'Donnell, Jr., president of the 1,300-member guild.

All proceeds from this year's event will go to the Men's Guild's two-year commitment to purchase an emergency cardiac telemetry system which will monitor all emergency department patients. This equipment will provide the medical and nursing staff with immediate access to vital cardiac information.

Tewksbury Tourney Is Benefit

The Massachusetts Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society has announced a special event of the Longest Day of Golf to benefit 6,500 people in Massachusetts who have multiple sclerosis.

Jim Davis, local community chairman and president of the golf team at Dynamic Research Corporation of Andover, and his team will play their "longest day" from sunrise to sunset between August 3 and 23. Foursomes will compete against each other as well as regionally to raise the most money for MS. The team seeks community support to pledge a donation for each hole played.

The Trull Brook Golf Club of Tewksbury has cooperated with the MS Society to have Dynamics Research Corporation's longest day played at the Trull Brook course.

The Massachusetts chapter serves thousands of Massachusetts residents who cope with this baffling disease by providing vital services and support. The MS Society is the only non-profit health agency seeking to find a cause and cure for MS and seeks public support of the Longest Day of Golf to raise funds.

Join with golfers throughout the state and take up the challenge of Jim Davis and the Dynamics Research Corporation to "drive out MS" in Essex County.

over 9 - Billerica Nationals 8. The contest featured a game-saving, over-the-shoulder catch by leftfielder Bobby Daley with the tying and winning runs on base in the bottom of the sixth for the final out. Key basehits were delivered by Josh Nelken, who tripled with the bases loaded, and Steve Marchlik, who knocked in two with a sharp single. Nelken also doubled and Mike Famiglietti and Ian Timmons collected singles. Keith Bilger and Matt Righetto shared pitching duties. Second basemen Chad Bowman and Kevin Sharkey also made several nice plays.

The highlight of game two, won by Andover 17-6 over the Billerica Americans, was a rare triple play. Centerfielder Timmons made a nice running grab of a sinking line drive and fired to Sharkey at third to catch a runner. Sharkey quickly threw to Bilger at second to nail a second runner returning to base. There were also two double plays; Marchlik, unassisted, and Chad Bowman to Daley back to Famiglietti.

Andover scored six in the first inning, five in the third and six in the fourth. Famiglietti had four hits, Timmons 2, Chad Bowman 2, Bilger 2 and Daley, Sharkey and Righetto 1 each. Famiglietti and Nelken shared mound duties.

The squad, made up of American Little League Major Leaguers, consists of Colin Arsenault, Keith Bilger, Chad Bowman, John Bowman, Brian Creteau, Bobby Daley, Andy DiBenedictis, Johnny Dwight, Mike Famiglietti, Rodd Malitsky, Steve Marchlik, Robert Miele, Josh Nelken, Matt Righetto, Kevin Sharkey and Ian Timmons.

FINANCING TODAY

Until just a few years ago, there was one basic type of loan. It had a fixed interest rate, level monthly payments, and ran from 20 to 30 years. It is still available and remains the favorite of most buyers.

Today, however, there are more loan varieties than Babe Ruth had home runs. Chief among them is the Adjustable-Rate Mortgage (ARM), which allows changes in the interest rate at specific times during the life of the loan. Adjustments are tied to changes in an independent index that reflects current market interest rates. Some ARMs permit rate adjustments every one, three or five years.

The interest rate on ARMs usually starts a couple of percentage points lower than the fixed rate mortgage. Then the interest rate fluctuates. True, the rate can go up if that's the way rates are going, however, they can go down automatically too. In that case, the borrower gets a lower rate without refinancing and incurring the fees and closing costs of a new loan.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 PUNCHARD AVE., ANDOVER. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

GOP Committee Members See Hope For Party In Election

By Karen L. Day

Last week, the Search Committee for a Republican gubernatorial candidate recommended that the State Republican Committee back George Kariotis. Kariotis is a former Democrat who served under former Gov. Edward J. King as Secretary of Economic Affairs.

Kariotis was recommended "unanimously" after members of the search committee had agreed that the prospective candidate carrying the majority of the committee would be backed by the committee as a whole.

Contacted the day that the search committee announced their recommendation, but before it was made public, local Republican State Committee member Robert E. Merrill, Andover, commented that he thinks "we're getting too close to it (the primary)" to really stand a chance against Dukakis. According to the First Essex and Middlesex district party representative, Dukakis is beatable because he "keeps growing the government," but he will most probably win easily this election. Merrill stated that for any real showing, the candidate chosen would have to have "significant name recognition...(it's) tough to come in from outside."

Merrill thinks the party should "put in a lot" behind Republican candidates for other offices. Then again, he's "beginning to think its too late to switch our energies" to even the best the party has to offer in other races.

Once the recommendation of Kariotis was announced, another Republican State Committee member from Andover, Atty. William E. Melahn, First Essex and Middlesex district, conceded that "I suppose common wisdom is that he (Kariotis) doesn't stand a chance." Expressing some hope and confidence in Kariotis, he continued, adding that "there's substantial discontent with Dukakis...(I think) he's got a reasonable chance," so Melahn will support the recommendation of the Search Committee.

Unlike Merrill, Melahn believes that Kariotis is "going to be a lot stronger" in the race than most would expect. "Dukakis is taking a free ride from President Reagan and Governor King," especially where Proposition 2½ and the improved economy due to the growth of high technology industries in the state are concerned.

Kariotis' strongest point, according to Melahn, is his background in high technology both at Alpha Industries and in King's administration as Cabinet secretary of Economic Affairs. "Many of us believe that his policies under Governor King are directly responsible" for high tech industry growth in Massachusetts.

Melahn, chairman of the committee to elect Edward Harrington to the office of Attorney General, agreed with Merrill on the issue of supporting Republican candidates in other races. He feels that the party should work hard for the success of Republican candidates, especially in the races for Attorney General and Auditor. "We have an obligation," he stated.

Melahn has been greatly pleased "with the sophistication of Massachusetts voters" who do not transfer their feelings about Switzler and Hyatt to Kariotis and other Republicans running for office. "We haven't rolled over and died yet," he said, stating that overall, the party may very well come through this election year much better off than most thought.
